Another Year

Another year has passed, and again we pause to look back over the things we have done. Some may be well finished, others may be sadly wrecked. But be that as it may, it is our work, and it is now too late to change it. Our task is to record with as much accuracy as possible a small bit of the activity which has gone to make up the background of that brilliant panorama we call "life."

Here we offer to you our contribution to another year in the history of Franklin College. Hundreds of students have entered and gone out from these four walls in the ninety-nine years of its existence. Much honor and respect for our institution has been gleaned during this time, and we trust that in our short residence here, we have done nothing that will not augment that honor.

Much has happened worthy of note during the year which has just passed, but much has already been forgotten, and has sunk deep into the oblivion born of triviality. As the pages of this book are opened from time to time we hope it will serve to call to mind the things which came about in those years during which everything has mellowed with the sunshine coming from the sheer gladness and exuberance of youth.

• DEDICATION

For several years, Franklin College has indeed been fortunate in having as a member of the faculty, Professor Dwight F. Heath, a man who has served the institution faithfully and well, and who has given his whole-hearted support and friendship to the student body. Although he has many outside activities to occupy his time, no one who has ever gone to this man for aid or assistance at anytime has found it lacking, and his perpetual kindness and friendliness have endeared him to every individual connected with our institution. It is with the hope that we may in a small measure show our sincere appreciation for the work of Professor Heath, that we dedicate this book to him.

• Dwight F. Heath

Campus Drive

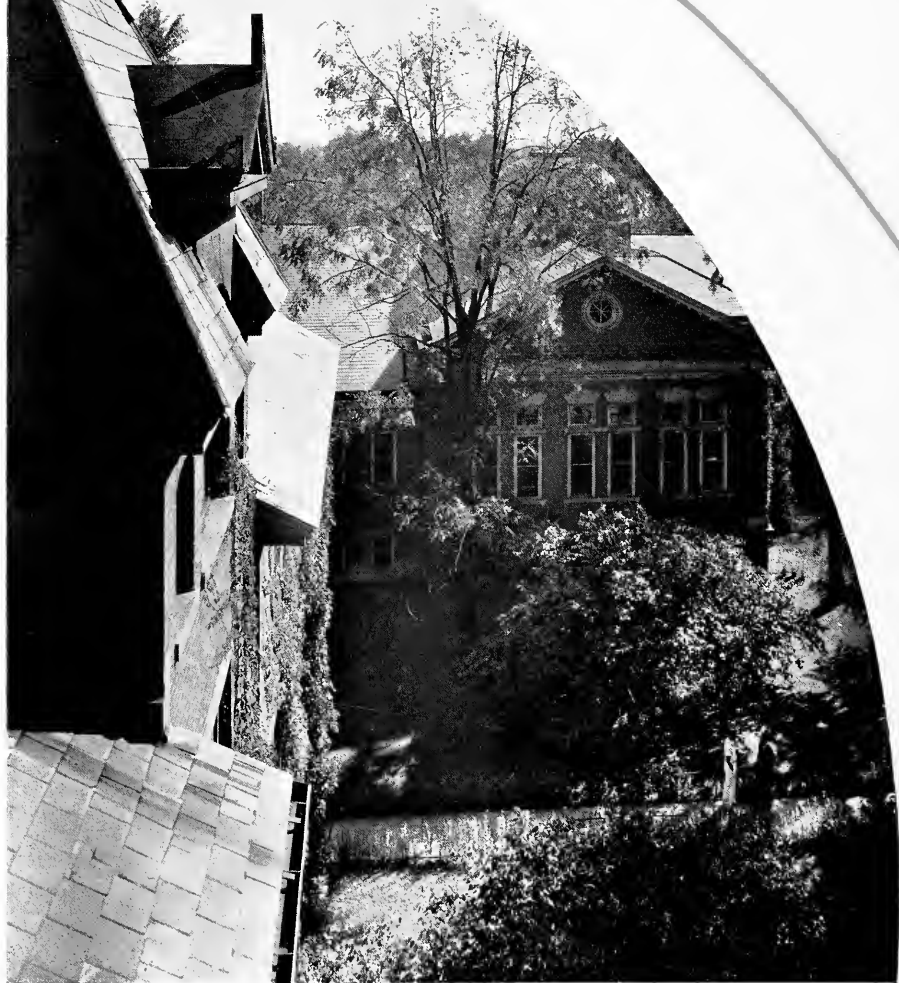

¶ A pleasant drive, winding through the campus, and flanked by leafy trees, through whose branches the sun makes a brilliant pattern on the grass.

Residence Hall

¶ Residence Hall which houses the college women during the time which they spend as students in our institution.

Shirk Hall

¶ A glimpse of the beautiful campus, dotted with leafy shrubs, and shaded by tall trees—buildings clothed in a garment of ivy, blending age, dignity, and beauty into a harmonious whole.

Beyond The Walls

¶ The beginning and the end—Take heed, all you who near approach, that you leave these portals divested of none of the honor which you found here upon your arrival.

OR A Long Time, The "Almanack" has been published with the idea of presenting to the public a graphic record of another year in the history of our institution. All sorts of books with all kinds of themes have been edited, which have represented countless hours of hard work on the part of the editor and the managing staff. Again this year, the Junior Class of 1933 is endeavoring to record the happenings of the year which has just passed, and we are trying to do it in a way which is somewhat novel and different from any which has gone before. In these pages are shown the college itself at work and play, for the college is not merely a building of brick and stone, but is made up of the men and women who live and work here for four of the happiest years of their lives.

This book is a record of their activity, and it is the sincere hope of those in charge of this publication that it will be kindly received as a memorandum of another year in the life and work of Franklin College.

ADMINISTRATION

Student industry and initiative is respected by the college faculty who, with retiring Acting-President Kent, believe that the fun of college study comes only to the students who industriously pursues his tasks under the drive of buoyant interest. The intimate contact which has been established between the students and professors tends toward a better understanding of the subjects being offered in the classroom. Moreover, many of the faculty members have varied interests and contribute materially to student enterprises.

Acting-President Robert H. Kent throughout the last two years has maintained his interested support on all student projects despite the oppressive responsibilities of his executive office. His continuance as head of the philosophy and psychology department is eagerly accepted by the student body which desires to carry on its friendly relationship.

As Dean and professor of biblical literature, Pleasant Lee Powell exerts an understanding concern and influence over the scholastic progress and religious life of the students.

Miss Eleanor Crawford, besides discharging her official duties as registrar, assists in planning the student social program, as well as the academic one in which she is especially active in the recognition of meritorious scholarship.

The Bursar, Will A. Burton, gives to student affairs valued assistance as ex-officio treasurer of the Student Council, advisor in scholarship awards, student publications, and social activities, and special booster of the Blue Key honorary fraternity.

Miss Hollis Hughes serves as assistant to the bursar and manager of the bookstore; her interest in the students' social life is evidenced by her operative partnership in "The Nook," the campus rendezvous.

Miss Rachel Ogle, librarian, attempts to make the student's daily perusal of worthwhile literature as inviting as possible.

LIBERAL ARTS

Mrs. Elsa P. Klein, associate professor of modern languages, has an important part in the supervision of student social activities and the encouragement of cultural assimilation, especially art and music.

The sponsorship of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical fraternity, constitutes the official phases of Mrs. Margaret W. Powell's active interest in student affairs which supplements her work as associate professor of classical languages.

Miss Pauline M. White, assistant professor of English, gives her special attention to college artistic and social undertakings.

An important share in the promotion of student debating, dramatic, social, and individualized scholastic activities adds to Mr. Victor Solberg's duties as associate professor of English.

Miss Roberta M. Trent, instructor in music, lends special assistance to school musical efforts and has as her special charge, the orchestra.

As debate and dramatic coach, Mr. Ray Ehrensberger, assistant professor of English, supervises one of the most popular phases of student activity.

Mr. Glenn M. Seitz, instructor in vocal music, is actively concerned with the organization of choral groups and the direction of the college choir.

Besides performing his official task as professor and head of the department of English, Mr. Myron McCurry also serves as special faculty advisor of student publications and faculty sponsor of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Mr. John F. Klein, professor and head of the department of Modern Languages, is interested in an appreciative study of art in which he taught a course this year. Professor Klein also aids the promotion of scholastic attainment, officially serving as secretary of Alpha, scholastic honor society.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Mr. Ernest H. Shideler, professor and head of the department of economics and sociology, is chairman of the committee in charge of the system of independent individualized study and lends active support to forensic activities.

Mr. I. George Blake, assistant professor of history, takes an active part in the furthering of debates and dramatics.

As sponsor of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational fraternity, Mr. Curtis D. Kirkin, professor of education, officially promotes organized student activity in his department. Professor Kirkin will also be in charge of the extension program next year.

Mr. Arthur E. Cowley, pastor of the Baptist Church at Shelbyville has filled the capacity of acting professor of philosophy during the past year, and has contributed to the religious program of the college.

As director of athletics, Roy E. Tillotson, associate professor of physical education, is a necessary personality in the maintenance of Franklin sport prestige.

Mr. J. W. C. Harper, associate professor of economics, boosts all student ventures, particularly athletics.

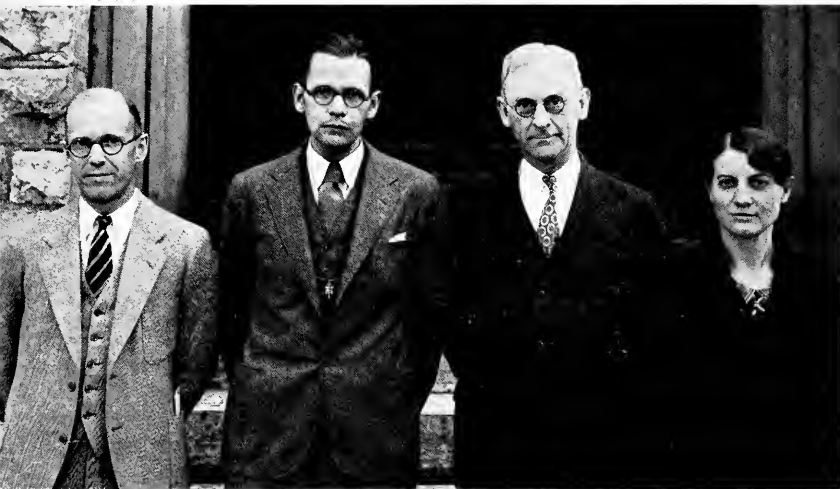

Although Mr. John Cady is professor and head of the department of history, he finds time to promote student scholastic, athletic, and religious programs, serve as president of Alpha, scholastic honor society, supervise men's dorm, and write a history of the Baptist church in Indiana for the Baptist State Convention, which celebrates its centennial this year.

Mr. Raymond E. Blackwell, director of public relations and instructor in journalism, lends a hand in arranging Wednesday chapels, student publications, Blue Key, and scholarship awards; however, his primary interest centers in securing new students.

Mrs. Evelyn Larkin Bridges, instructor in physical education, supervises the Women's Athletic Association, which sponsors all women's interclass and intramural athletic contests.

Mrs. Elthea Whitesides, instructor in home economics, who has had recent association with the student body as a fellow classmate, is keenly aware of student attitudes and problems.

SCIENCE

Besides being professor and head of the department of mathematics, Mr. Dwight F. Heath is in charge of the tumbling class for girls, sponsors the Women's Rifle Club, and assists in the guidance of student scholastic, athletic and social activities.

Mr. Norman J. Harrer, professor and head of the department of chemistry, is working out an unusual research project pertaining to the iron compounds of organic acids; he also supervises the Chemistry Club and aids in the direction of distinctive scholastic achievement.

Mr. Charles A. Deppe, professor and head of the department of biology, is particularly interested in the development of student religious life and choral groups.

Miss Naomi Mullendore, assistant professor of biology, vitalizes her class work with frequent field trips. Her interest is in student literary and scholastic advancement.

We have tried, in the past four pages, to present to you the faculty of Franklin College as they are regarded in their relationship to the students and the part they play on the campus. Now as we turn the pages, we must view the students and their contribution.

Explanation

In past years beauty and leadership have often been represented in the Almanacks' Hall of Fame. This year we decided to set a precedent and recognize scholarship instead of beauty. For this reason, the pictures of the man and woman having the highest scholastic record up to the present time are included in the group. These two students are Wynema Howard and Robert Deupree. Cyrus Favor, Robert Burgett, Kathryn Doub, and Elizabeth Myers were selected by popular vote as being the four most outstanding students on the campus.

At the beginning of the year, it was planned to devote a special page to the May Queen of 1933. However, editor's plans often go astray, and that is what happened this year. When the May Queen was announced, it was found that she was Kathryn Doub, who was already represented in this section.

General Activities

Student Council Executive Board

Cyrus H. Favor, Drockton, Massachusetts, was elected last spring, to head the Franklin College Student Council, which is the highest office a student may attain. Under his leadership the Student Council of 1932-33 has had a successful year in cooperating with the administration towards making the school year a success financially and in carrying out a constructive program of better student government.

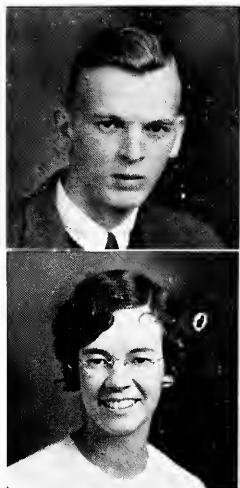

The assistants to Mr. Favor are the members of the Executive Board, along with the vice president, Margaret Reguli, Franklin; and secretary, Elizabeth Myers, Greenwood, of the Student Council and the Senior Board. Members of the Executive Board are Mildred Avery, Martinsville; Mary Ritz, Lavernam, Canada; Gwendolyn Horton, Hammond; Margaret Andres, Madison; Anne Winnes, Decatur; Beulah Eldridge, Greenwood; Herschel Wheeler, Peru; Edward Cuddy, Oolitic; Francis Gallagher, Needham; Albert Puckett, Sullivan; William Breedlove, Russiaville; and Robert Hawkins, Anderson.

The organization selected from the upper classes, three members to form the Budget Finance Committee, whose duties are to budget the money of Franklin College for the current expenses of the college year. The members of the finance board are Bartlett Atwood, chairman; Herschel Wheeler and Wynema Howard.

Miss Florence Alice Province, Franklin, was elected secretary of the Student Council last May, but since she did not return this year, her place was filled by the election of Miss Elizabeth Myers. Two Executive Board members elected last May, Miss Ruth Scott and Ralph McQuinn, were not in school this year, and their positions were filled by Gwendolyn Horton and Robert Hawkins respectively.

First Row: Cyrrus H. Favor, Elizabeth Myers, William Breedlove, Margaret Reguli, Robert Hawkins, Beulah Eldridge, Herschel Wheeler.

Senior Board

Six members of the senior class are chosen each year to serve as assistants to the president of the Student Council. This year the president was Mr. Cyrus Favor.

This group, made up of six men and women, are not members of the regular Student Council Executive Board, but they are appointed by the Executive Board.

The Senior Board has certain functions and special designed duties which it is called upon to perform. In cooperation with the faculty committee of student publications, the Senior Board appoints both the business manager and the editor of the Franklin, the college publication.

Another function of the Senior Board is that it mediates between the Student Council and the college administration, in all matters of student and faculty concern.

The Senior Board has fulfilled well another of its duties by managing efficiently all student elections this year.

The members of this year's Senior Board were: Cyrus Favor, ex-officio chairman, Brockton, Mass.; Elizabeth Myers, secretary, Greenwood.

Second Row: Kathryn Doub, Kathryn Suckow, Elizabeth Myers.

Women's Self-Governing Association

The Women's Self-Governing Association, which has for several years handled very successfully the making of regulations for the dormitory women, is made up of a representative group of girls chosen by popular vote of the association members. The council, which is the legislative body, is made up of two girls from each sorority and two from the independent group. This year the representatives were as follows: Zeta Tau Alpha, Beulah Eldridge and Anne Winnes; Delta Zeta, Blanche Sizelove and Dorothy Stroud; Delta Delta Delta, Margaret Andres and Ruby Disque; Pi Beta Phi, Mary Ritz and Louise Crouch; and Independent Women, Edna Shadday and Esther Thomas.

All disciplinary problems relating to the women are brought before this body, and are dealt with accordingly. The executive power this year was in the hands of Beulah Eldridge, who held the president's chair. She was ably assisted by Blanche Sizelove, vice-president; Esther Thomas, secretary; and Dorothy Stroud, treasurer.

At the beginning of the present school year, the association held "open house" in the dormitory for the purpose of introducing to the general public the new house mother, Mrs. Mabel Van Nuys, who succeeded Mrs. Clara Hannaman.

W. S. G. A. sponsors an annual Christmas party for the girls living in the dormitory, and it is customary for each girl to bring some inexpensive gift to be given to philanthropic projects.

May 1933, and the work of another yearbook is almost at an end. The editor sighs with relief while writing this, at the same time making her plans for a quick get-away when the finished product is handed to the student body. Every one finds fault with the annual year after year. Perhaps if everyone published it, we would, for one time, have a perfect edition.

We have attempted this year to present to the student body a book reeking with campus life. We have tried to get informal pictures of students, professors, and the officers of our school. We have tried to show the informal relationship existing between faculty members and students on this campus. We haven't succeeded. When many plans are made, we think the book will be perfect, but when cuts must be made due to finances, the publication seems to be a failure.

Louise Crouch, selected as assistant editor last fall, has done outstanding work throughout the entire year. It is due to her perseverance and dependability that many pictures and write-ups are in this book. During the few weeks the editor was out of school, the assistant editor took over the entire management of the staff and kept things going at one of the busiest times.

Wilbur Lloyd is also to be commended for his fine work, doing many write-ups which those less dependable on the staff failed to hand in. Anne Winnes spent a considerable amount of time writing the articles for the opening sections, editing copy, rewriting stories and proof reading.

We could go on down the list commending or condemning each member of the staff, but we must mention someone to whom too much credit cannot be given. It is impossible to put into words anything worthy of Herschel Wheeler, who took over the post of business manager of the Almanack at the end of March and has since worked tirelessly at this job in order to make the book a financial success. His assistants have been Elizabeth Myers, Betty Oglesby, Charles Elliott and Wilbur Lloyd.

The staff has worked hard on this book—and—we hope you like it!

Wednesday morning and the grand rush for the Franklin—our college paper. That is the time to which we all look forward with the greatest of pleasure. This year the Franklin, under the able editorship of Robert Deupree has been particularly successful. Always the latest news—even scoops on the local newspaper at times—new columns, and everything of interest to the student has been found in the paper during the past year.

Volume twenty-seven has been published in weekly editions.

During the absence of the editor two editions were put out by Jack Deupree. Mildred Avery has served as assistant editor for the year and has had to put in many hours preparing copy and doing other journalistic work.

Business Managers of anything during the year of the depression deserve especial credit and so, for that reason, we must eulogize Andrew Offut, who has had to work hard in order to fill the necessary inches with advertisements each week so that the paper would be a financial success.

FRANKLIN

Sports have been taken care of in a big way by Robert Lockman, who turned in at least a page of copy every week and also took care of the special column, giving us all the dressing room talk on athletics to readers and fans.

Special credit should be given to the feature writers for the large amount of copy they have turned in. Alice Mock, as feature editor, has been assisted by Florence June Pavey and Boyd Gill. During the second semester Mary Lee Walker contributed feature stories to the "Franklin."

Blue Key

Robert Brown, Martinsville, was the president of Blue Key, an honorary national organization of representative college men, this year. The fraternity's membership in most instances is taken from the junior and senior classes, with certain qualifications of leadership, active interest, and service to the school necessary.

Blue Key was founded on the Franklin College campus June 1, 1922, largely through the efforts of Dan Edkins, the first president, now deceased. Recognition of merit and cooperation with the administration in furthering and bettering Franklin College are the purposes of this group.

Brown was ably assisted by Edward Cuddy, Oolitic, vice-president; Robert Burgett, Franklin, secretary-treasurer; George Dick, chaplain; and Robert Demaree, sergeant-at-arms. This year Blue Key has been active on the campus, having been one of the organizations which aided in the sponsoring of the Prom. In the past years other worthwhile projects have been accomplished, such as the building of a walk in the memory Roy Freeman and the erecting of a flag pole in honor of Dan Edkins. A leadership trophy is awarded each year at the commencement exercises to the senior man who is outstanding in scholarship participation in extra-curricular activities, and loyalty to the college. William Province won the award last year.

Mr. Will A. Burton is faculty advisor of the organization.

First Row: Robert Deupree, Robert Demaree, Glen Kenny, Robert Primmer, Earl McClelland, Herschel Wheeler.

Gold Quill

There is not a girl entering Franklin College as a freshman, who does not look forward to her upper class days, and wish, secretly perhaps, that she may be chosen a member of Gold Quill, local honorary organization. To be elected to membership in this group is an honor which comes to but few. Only very outstanding junior and senior women are admitted.

Criteria for eligibility and judging of girls are named in three points, which are excellence in scholarship leadership on the campus, and service to the college.

This year five women, three juniors and two seniors, were chosen by the group in an impressive "tapping" ceremony, which is carried once each semester during a regular convocation hour.

The Gold Quill members, dressed in caps and gowns, sit on the platform, while the president explains the nature, ideals, and aims of the Gold Quill organization. Then the group adjourns to the rear of the chapel hall. Prospective members are spoken to by members who place their caps on the chosen girls. The entire group then returns to the platform, where the new girls receive ribbons and a welcome into the organization. A formal dinner and initiation ceremony are held in the evening of the "tapping" service.

Miss Jeannette Caudle was president during the past year.

The two seniors chosen for membership the first semester were: Beulah Eldridge and Kathryn Suckow. Three juniors chosen during the second semester were: Anne Winnes, Mildred Avery and Mary Ritz.

First Row: Jeanette Caudle, Elizabeth Myers, Dorothy Bahr, Beulah Eldridge, Margaret Andres.

Second Row: Margaret Reguli, Blanche Sizelove, Mary Ritz, Kathryn Suckow, Anne Winnes, Mildred Avery.

Kappa Delta Pi

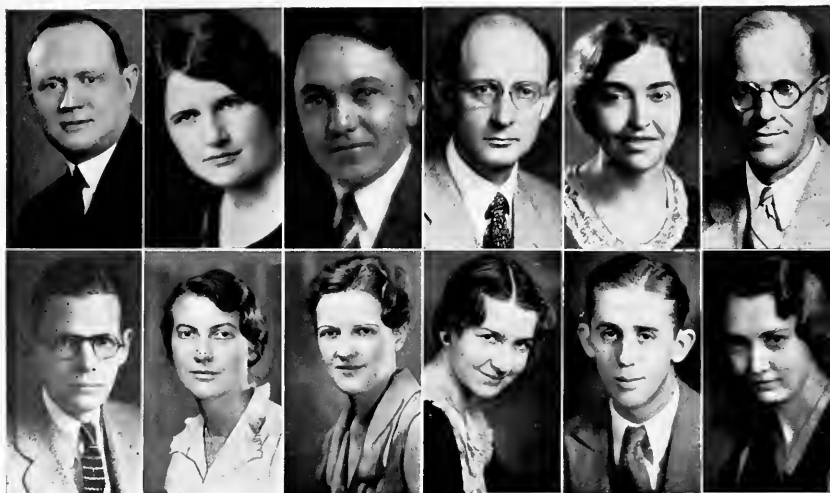

Kappa Delta Pi, the national honorary educational fraternity for prospective teachers, was organized in Franklin College in 1927, and under the the sponsorship of Professor C. D. Kirklin, has kept a high standing on the campus. Membership into this organization is limited to junior and senior men and women, and is based on scholarship in educational courses, as well as interest in the teaching profession.

During the past year under the very able leadership of the president, Margaret Andres, discussions were held relative to the various phases of teaching. Problems which were likely to arise were discussed, and the various aspects of the work were presented in a manner which was indeed helpful to individuals intending to make teaching their work after graduation from college.

The local chapter of the fraternity keeps in close touch with the national organization, and it is felt that there are very good prospects for a successful future for Kappa Delta Pi.

First Row: Frances Beaman, Edna Shadday, Burke Anderson, Annie Laurie White, Margaret Andres.

Second Row: Professor C. D. Kirklin, Mary Alice Keith, Margaret Hougham, Anne Winnes, Dorothy Bahr.

Alpha

Miss Dorothy Bahr was elected first semester and Mr. Robert Demaree was chosen the second semester for membership in Alpha, which is the Franklin College honorary scholastic fraternity. These two people made the highest grades in the senior class, and because of this, won for themselves election to membership.

Previous to 1922, there had been no honorary organization for those students with outstanding scholastic records at Franklin. At that time, however, a group of faculty members who were known as the faculty committee on honors, realized that in view of what other colleges and universities were doing, it would be advisable for Franklin College to have an organization by which honor students might be recognized. Thus Alpha came into existence. The scholastic requirements for election to membership have been set higher than those of nearly all of the national honor societies.

It is customary to choose one member each semester. Often others are taken in at the time of graduation.

All of the faculty members who belong to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, automatically become members of Alpha.

Second Row: Dr. Norman J. Harrar, Miss Naomi Mullendore, Miss Roberta Trent, Miss Dorothy Bahr, Mr. Robert Demaree, Miss Marian Hunt.

Young Women's Christian Association

For many years, one of the most influential groups on the campus has been the Young Women's Christian Association. This year, under the very able leadership of Miss Margaret Andres, the organization has carried on much splendid work and has enjoyed many interesting programs. Meetings are held every Monday evening, alternating between cabinet and association meetings. Many interesting programs have been enjoyed, but probably the most outstanding project for this year was the bringing to the campus of Miss Irene Lyons of Chicago, Illinois. Miss Lyons is an outstanding young peoples' leader, and the days she spent here were indeed profitable.

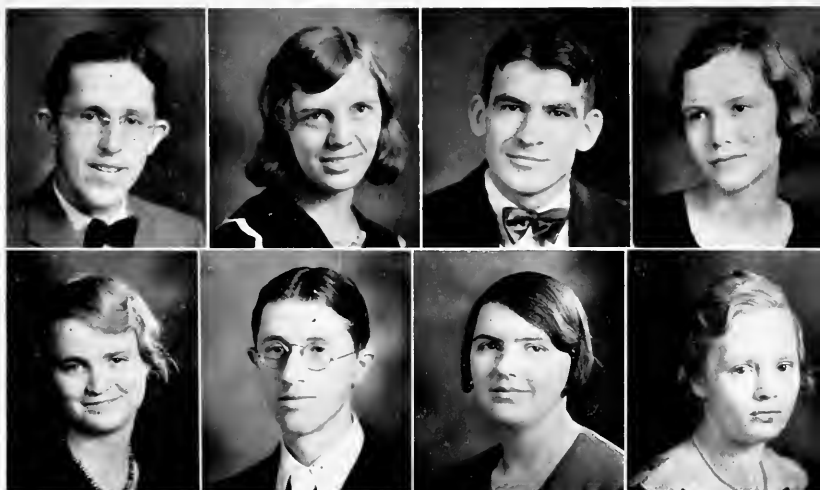

The "Big Sister" system in which a Y. W. C. A. member assists some freshman girl in adjusting herself to college life, was carried out successfully this year. A "get acquainted" picnic was held on the lawn of the acting-president's home at the beginning of the college year in September, to which all women were invited.

A Christmas box containing clothing was sent to Miss Thomasine Allen, Y. W. C. A. missionary to Japan.

Of all campus organizations, Y. W. C. A. has one of the largest membership. Any woman enrolled in college is eligible. Every fall an impressive initiation service is held for new members, and every year sees the adding of a goodly number to the Young Women's Christian Association.

First Row: Margaret Andres, Elizabeth Myers, Jeanette Caudle, Anne Winnes, Lynetta Wilson.

Student Volunteers

One of the most active groups on the campus during the past year has been the Student Volunteer organization. The men and women who compose this group are those whose idea it is to prepare themselves for religious work. It is their aim to foster a deeper religious life on the campus, and to make it practical by blending it into their everyday living.

The presidency for the past year has been held by Raymond Stover, and he, assisted by Elizabeth Dewar, vice-president, and Joyce Vinson, secretary-treasurer, has indeed led them most successfully.

It has been the object of the organization to do some practical work in their field, and they have accomplished this by various deputation tours sponsored by the society. On several occasions these young people have taken over the entire service in the church where they were visiting, and have added to it their interpretation of the subjects at hand by talks, song services, and the like.

During the past semester, their discussions have centered around foreign missions to a large extent. Weekly devotional meetings are held every Wednesday evening in Chaucer Hall, and these are truly of great value to the group as a whole.

Eta Sigma Phi

Miss Blanche Sizelove of Morocco, has ably served as president of Eta Sigma Phi during the past year, and has led the organization through a profitable year of intellectual development in the classical languages, especially in Latin. She has been assisted by Beulah Eldridge, Greenwood, vice-president; and Anne Winnes, Decatur, secretary-treasurer, in planning programs to appeal to those majoring in Latin. Meetings of this society are held monthly in the various sorority rooms.

Eta Sigma Phi is a national organization, having been founded by some students at the University of Chicago in 1914. At first it was merely a local club, but the group at Chicago combined with a similar organization at Northwestern University in 1924 and became known as Eta Sigma Phi. In a very brief time the local chapter was founded and became recognized as the Delta chapter, which has been in existence here ever since. The purpose of the society is to create an interest in classical languages. The qualifications for membership are ten hours of B in a classical language and the rank of a second semester sophomore.

This year the local organization has sponsored a Latin poster contest in the schools throughout Johnson County. Under their auspices the contest was a success, as it stimulated a greater interest in the study of Latin.

Students who as yet have not fulfilled the requirements for membership into the honorary fraternity, are organized into a group known as the Classical Club, whose aims are to further interest in Latin and make a study of collateral material. Those furthering the work for this year were Kathryn Doub, Elizabeth Frisinger and Hannah Hood.

First Row: Beulah Eldridge, Blanche Sizelove, Anne Winnes.

Pi Kappa Delta

At the close of a highly stimulating and progressive debate season, the following nine students, comprising one of the largest similar neophyte classes in the country, were initiated into the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta on May 4: Alberta McCullough, Susan Joyce, Traber Guthrie, Beatrice Roelm, Eugene Firestone, Baker A. Humes, James Pease, A. G. Ealy, and Robert Richman.

Franklin College will be host to the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Convention in 1935; and as a chapter of the Kentucky Province, the local group will share the responsibilities of host at the National Convention to be conducted at Lexington, Kentucky next year.

The Pi Kappa Delta officers who served during the past year were: Margaret Reguli, president; Patrick Cuddy, vice-president; Cyrus Favor, secretary-treasurer.

DELEGATES TO TENNESSEE

College Choir

During the past year, Franklin College has indeed been fortunate in having as director of the College Choir, Professor Glenn M. Seitz, whose faithful work with this organization has given it an outstanding place on our campus.

The choir, with Miss Elizabeth Myers as accompanist, appeared before the faculty and student body every Tuesday morning at the convocation hour to provide music for the regular devotional services. At Christmas and Easter time, special programs were arranged which were presented, not only to the college audience, but to several outside groups as well.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding things done by the choir this year was its participation in the Inter-collegiate Music Festival which was sponsored by the Indiana Federation of Music Clubs at Caleb Mills Hall, in Indianapolis, on April 22. This is the first choral musical of this kind which has been held in Indiana, and it aroused a great deal of interest. The Franklin choir did some very creditable work which was the basis for many favorable comments. Besides this, on several occasions this group has given programs at several nearby churches, and on all such occasions their work has been excellent.

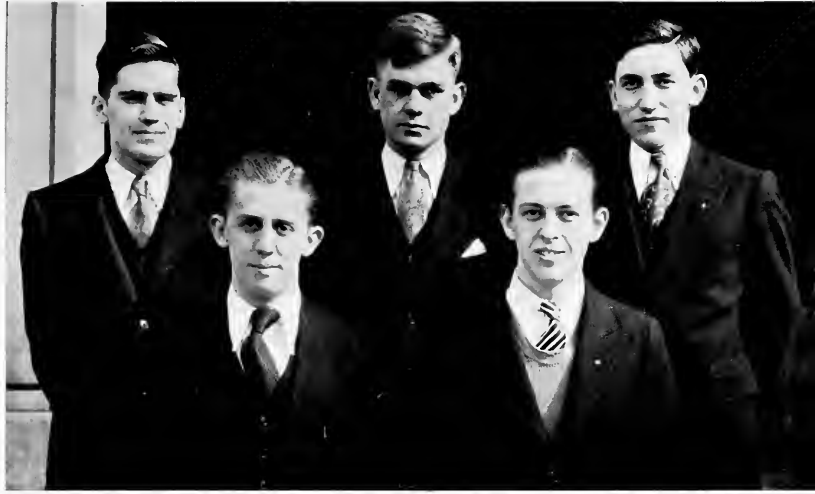

First Row: Frances Beaman, Dorothy Bahr, Mary Frances Setser, Prof. Glenn Seitz, Elizabeth Oglesby, Hilda Cunningham, Gwendolyn Horton.

Secrnd Row: Frances Inman, Kathryn Luckow, Daisy McCullough, Hannah Hood, Margaret Houham, Alice Mock, Elizabeth Myers.

College Quartet

The College Quartet, which has sung for the most part in cooperation with the college choir, has done a great deal of praiseworthy work during the past year. On practically every occasion when programs were given by the choir, the quartet was called upon to assist in some way or another.

During the last part of February, Franklin College entertained the convention of the Johnson County Young Peoples' Association, and at this time the quartet put on several programs for the approval of those attending.

This group which is also under the direction of Professor Glenn M. Sietz, sings the greater part of the time without any accompaniment. To do this creditably is considered quite a noteworthy accomplishment. The four men indeed merit any expression of praise which may be given to them on this account, and Franklin may well be proud of having such a group available in the student body. Boyd Gill accompanies the quartette.

First Row: Robert Demaree, Boyd Gill.

Theta Alpha Phi

"The Whole Town's Talking," by Anita Loos and John Emerson, presented by Theta Alpha Phi in February, constituted the principal work done by that organization during 1932-33. Professor Ray Ehrensberger directed the play. Those taking part in the play were members of Wigs and Cues, as well as the honorary fraternity.

In order to become a member of Theta Alpha Phi it is necessary to earn fifty points by having two major parts or their equivalent in any college play.

The chapter was established on Franklin College campus in 1924. Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary fraternity, was founded in 1918, at Oklahoma State College, Stillwater, Oklahoma.

During the past year the following have served as officers: Wendell Rowe, president; Herschel Wheeler, vice-president; Dorothy Bahr, secretary; and Alberta McCullough, treasurer.

First Row: Jeannette Caudle, Herschel Wheeler, Dorothy Bahr, Wendell Rowe.

Rifle Club

The bang! bang! of shots during the first few weeks of school immediately informed freshmen that there was a rifle range on the campus, somewhere in the vicinity of the main building. Then the first year girls were told they might try-out for Rifle Club. As a result, in less than two weeks a dinner was given at the Country Club in honor of the new members, who had made the highest scores of all those trying out.

These new members were: Katherine Lee, Daisy McCullough, Mary Jo Davis, Dorothy Dekle, Cornelia Rutan, Virginia Green, Dorothy Rider, Kathryn Schafer, Hilda Cunningham, and Elizabeth New.

Franklin College Rifle Club, which is now a member of the National Rifle Association, was organized on this campus in 1926. Professor Dwight F. Heath is faculty advisor for the organization, and he gives instructions concerning the proper use of the rifles.

No meets have been scheduled with other schools during 1932-33, as has been done in past years, but there has been considerable competition between individual members.

Kathryn Mossop served as president during the past year, with Mary Etta Furnish as secretary-treasurer.

First Row: Katherine Lee, Dorothy Dekle, Virginia Green, Mary Etta Furnish, Elizabeth Oglesby.

Second Row: Cornelia Rutan, Kathryn Mossop, Prof. D. F. Heath, Dorothy Rider, Hilda Cunningham.

Third Row: Elta Mitchell, Mary Jo Davis, Daisy McCullough, Helen Winton, Kathryn Schaefer, Frances Warren.

Wigs and Cues

Dramatic try-outs were, for the first time, made the basis of membership in Wigs and Cues during the past year. These try-outs were held at the beginning of the first semester and as a result, eighteen new members were selected out of thirty-eight try-outs.

The new members were: Catherine Lee, Virginia Hill, Traber Guthrie, Caroline Castor, Margaret Hougham, Hannah Hood, Mildred Means, Marie Grimes, Vance Waggoner, Phillip Johnson, James Pease, A. G. Ealy, Lawrence Fulmer, Richard Moser, John Malmquist, and Wilbur Lloyd.

At the first meeting of the year, Mary Frances Setser was elected president of the organization; Ruth DeBard, secretary; and Richard Moser, treasurer.

Wigs and Cues participated in the Theta Alpha Phi play "The Whole Town's Talking." Although it was planned for the members of this group to present several one-act plays in chapel throughout the year, it was found impossible to carry out this idea.

Wigs and Cues was organized as a subsidiary organization to Theta Alpha Phi in 1926, for the purpose of developing and maintaining interest in dramatics. Members, by taking part in Theta Alpha Phi plays, can earn points toward the fraternity, an honor which is indeed coveted by everyone interested in dramatics.

First Row: Mary Etta Furnish, Mary Frances Setser, Hannah Hood, Katherine Lee, Virginia Schlosser, Mildred Means, Margaret Hougham.

Fifth Row: Wilbur Lloyd, Robert Lockman, James Gray.

History Club

One of the most outstanding changes made in the organization of clubs on Franklin's campus this year was the making of membership into History Club an honorary measure. To be eligible for this, one must be a major in the history department, and must have a B average in at least nine hours work, relative to this subject.

This club was founded in 1928, by students and faculty members, with the purpose of creating an interest in historical subjects and fostering pleasant social relations among its members. With this in mind, several interesting projects have been carried out and a number of social events have been enjoyed. One of the most outstanding of the latter was the entertaining of the delegates attending the Pi Kappa Delta convention at Marysville, Tennessee, at a party held in Brown County during the last part of the semester. The club has also entertained several guest speakers from neighboring colleges during the year.

Much of the success of the organization this year is due to the splendid corps of officers who led the group. Heading the list was Alberta McCullough, who served as president, and who was assisted by Blanche Szelove, secretary and Edna Shadday, treasurer.

Coach Tillotson

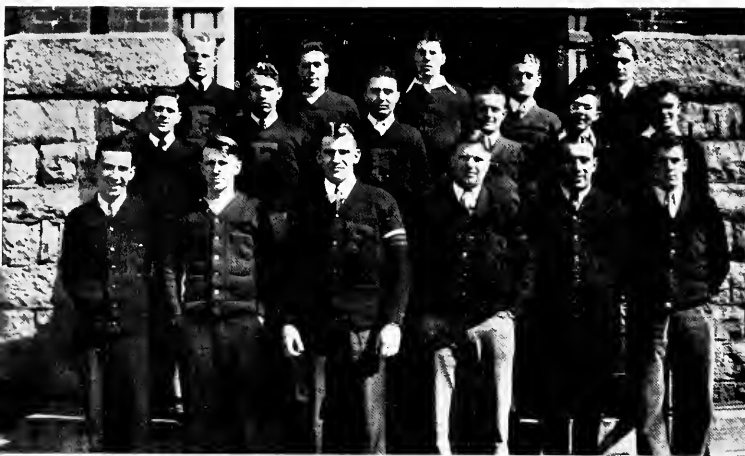

Coming in 1930 from Miami University, Coach Roy E. Tillotson immediately took hold of the football squad and started turning out winning elevens. He again succeeded this year, building up a worthy squad. Soon after the close of football, Coach Tillotson turned to the task of moulding a new basketball team. The task proved to be a hard one as only one veteran was available from last season's team. Thus inexperience greatly hindered the team, but there are excellent prospects for next year.

Last fall Coach Tillotson was aided by two able assistants, Robert Burgett and Roscoe Pierson.

Frank Cohn, who was Student Manager for the football squad, was faithful and efficient in the execution of his duties. He was highly praised for his fine work.

"F" Men's Club

Revival of the "F" Men's Club was perfected this year. Its operation was continued through this year by those men who were interested in such an organization. The club was organized for the purpose of supporting the athletic program of the college and offering an incentive to incoming men to try out for major sports and win a letter so as to become eligible for membership. The society stands for clean sports. This code can be seen to a great advantage on the field when the Franklin teams are competing in an interscholastic contest. Officers of the club for the current year were: Harold Nelson, president; Burke Anderson, vice-president; and James Gray, secretary-treasurer.

Cheer Leaders

At the beginning of the football season election of cheer leaders was held for the ensuing year. Robert Lockman was appointed as Head Cheer Leader and Robert Richman was elected as his assistant. Lockman resigned the position when basketball started, and Kenneth Boling was elected by popular vote to aid Richman in the cheer department during the hardwood season. All three men, who faithfully fulfilled their duties, supplied the necessary pep at all the home games.

AT THE outset of the football season, Coach Roy Tillotson stated that inasmuch as the Grizzlies had lost four of the best players Franklin had seen in a long time, the football team of 1932 would be fortunate if they won half of their encounters. An exceedingly hard schedule confronted the team, and with only a few regulars and some reserves from last season, Coach Tillotson set about to make another team worthy of wearing the Blue and Gold on the gridiron.

With these few veterans and twice as many eager freshmen, a team was lined up for the first game that indeed was worthy of wearing the colors of the college. The first contest was won with little trouble, but it was soon apparent that the freshmen were to play an important part in the workings of the football machine. In this first game six freshmen were used as compared with three veterans and two reserves from the team of last season.

Before the time came for the next game, an unwelcome visitor appeared in the ranks of the Grizzlies. This visitor, who eventually became a menace, was old man "jinx." He put "Doc" Ellington, all-state end, out of commission for the second game, and consequently the Grizzlies had to be content with a tie game. The "jinx" reappeared in several contests, and each time it was impossible to overcome the handicap. Inexperienced men either put the team in a difficult position or were responsible for the turning point of the game. Only once was the hindrance overcome during the entire season.

The season was concluded in great fashion, though, and the score books read in favor of the Grizzlies; four victories, three defeats, and one tie game. This was indeed remarkable considering the conditions under which Coach Tillotson built the team. There was an abundance of inexperienced material from which to select the needed players, and Coach Tillotson developed many promising players from the group. All the men that competed for the first time in college football showed possibilities and should make a name for the school in future years.

BECAUSE of the fact that Franklin's basketball team had only three veteran men on the squad who had seen service the previous year, and because of the fact that the team was composed mainly of inexperienced freshmen men, the Tillotson coached cagemen garnered only three games out of nineteen contests.

As the schedule was played eleven different teams were encountered, some of which ranked among the toughest in the middle-west; however during the latter half of the season, the "green" material showed great improvement as well as did the competition, yet the Franklin netters often were beaten by a one or two point margin even after overtimes.

Since Franklin lost many of their games by narrow margins and on the strength of the player's performance, the team usually had a man or two on the state college's weekly Honor Roll as chosen by Blaine Patton. Kenneth Goens, freshmen, received the distinguished individual honor of making the All-State selection. He scored 135 points during the nineteen games in the season.

1932 HARDWOOD HISTORY

Anderson, Buchanan, Primmer, Goens and Irvine composed Franklin's new quintet as they opened the 1932 basketball season against DePauw on the home floor on December 8. A bad accident occurred for Franklin during the opening game, when Robert Primmer broke his wrist in the first half. This weakened the team's strength and morally affected them with the resulting loss to DePauw 34 to 25.

A week later, Hanover came up to the camp of the Grizzlies and won a closely contested game throughout by a score 38-30.

Then along came Christmas in which the basketeers remained here at school, practicing for the two day trip down to Evansville College and Oakland City respectively. In the first game Evansville displayed too much strength to win by a score of 26-16. The next night at Oakland City, the Franklin cagers led about all the way, but lost by a late rally of Oakland City, 28-27. Up to this time the team revealed a lack of experience, and it was difficult freshmen to hold men or teams of three to four years more college experience.

Becoming tired of losing, the Baptists broke out and won two straight, first from Ball State by 32-30; then two days later they won over Manchester 34-30. These wins gave the boys more confidence, and from then on until the end of the season they grew tougher.

After the Manchester game competition became stronger, the Franklin netters entertained Earlham here losing by a score of 32-26. On Friday, January 14, a drubbing was handed to them by the Cave-men at Wabash the score being 41-20. Three days later, Indiana Central came to Franklin only to have DeJernet and Co. walk away with the net tilt with a score 43-24. Butler, on Thursday of the same week, won an early game 47-28 making the highest score of any opponent against Franklin.

Having been in a decided slump, the Grizzlies dropped six more games before breaking into the win column. The team traveled to Loyola and Western State where they lost two heartbreakers by an overtime and by very narrow margins in both cases. The scores were 31-28; 39-34 respectively.

Thursday, February 9, brought the Wabash Cavemen over to Franklin for a game. Wabash won 29-22. In like manner Franklin lost at Earlham and at DePauw by scores of 44-18 and 40-12, which gave each school two victories over the Grizzlies.

Next came the second clash with the Butler Bulldogs which was played on the home floor. In the game the Franklin Cagers won the respect of all the fans locally for as the half closed the home team held a lead of ten points, the score standing at 25-15. The Bulldogs had blown up in the first period, but they managed to pull themselves together to defeat Franklin by a score 40-32.

After giving the Bulldogs plenty to worry about, the Tillotson coached crew traveled down to Hanover where they trounced the Hanover team 35-23.

The last two games on the schedule were lost by the Franklin quintet. The boys played at Ball State and were nosed out in a last second shot by a Muncie cager making the score 30-29. Then Franklin closed the season at Indiana Central on February 28, in a fierce net battle losing by a close score 26-22. In this game, Miller held DeJernett to one point, no field goals, a feat which has happened to him only two or three times.

Franklin does not lose a man, as it was captained by a junior, Burke Anderson. Coach Tillotson is very optimistic about next year, for he has excellent prospects with many underclassmen and other reserve men from which to make his squad next season.

First Row: David Barrow, Kenneth Goens, Wilbur Lloyd, Charles Piercy, Ralph French.

Baseball Season

Franklin College's baseball nine, coached by Roy E. Tillotson, so far this season has lost seven straight games out of their ten game schedule.

This year the baseball team has had poor success mainly because of the fact that many inexperienced men were on the squad, and partly because of financial limitations on this sport.

The team was weakened in the first game played at Indiana University, when Francis Gallagher, one of the mainstays on the pitching staff, hurt his arm in the game causing him to have to stay out most of the season. Indiana's nine won over the Grizzlies by a score 13-5.

On April, 26, Franklin played at Ball State Teachers' College where they were again beaten 14-5. In this game in this game both teams knocked out two home runs. The two players hitting home runs for Franklin were Beldon and Cuddy. Three days later Franklin journeyed to Wabash to lose a close game to the Cavemen, 7-6. Franklin revealed marked improvement over the previous week-end, and should have won the game.

First Row: Ralph French, Phillip Symmonds, Ed Cuddy, Coach Tillotson, Roland Beldon, Roy Bedwell.

Baseball Season

May 3, Franklin played at Danville and were beaten 11-5. During the same week they held their first home game playing Indiana Central. Franklin held them in the first four or five innings but weakened and lost by a score 10-3.

Wednesday, May 10, brought Wabash to Franklin for a return game with the Cavemen. The game was played on a somewhat slick diamond because of rain for several days previous causing errors by both teams. Wabash had the edge which resulted in a victory for the Cavemen; score Wabash 9—Franklin 4.

With three games remaining on the tentative baseball schedule as this Almanack goes to press, the Franklin nine are determined to break into the win column. The three games are: DePauw, here; DePauw, there; and Hanover, there.

Some of the fellows who have held regular positions for the first time on the Franklin team are Polson and Piercy in the infield and Beldon and Bedwell in the outfield. French has pitched most of the games, assisted by Polson. Nelson and Gallagher have been dependable cogs in the team.

Intra-Mural Sports

With four campus organizations namely, Kappa Delta Rho, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Independents, vieing with one another for the new intra-mural cup which is to be awarded this year as soon as the spring sports are closed, keen interest has been displayed throughout the year with close rivalry among the fraternities being shown. A new cup has to be given, since Phi Delta Theta won the cup last year for the third consecutive time. Winning the cup three years in succession automatically places the cup in the winner's permanent possession. Kappa Delta Rho, at present, is leading the race for the trophy; however two events remain to be played off as this goes to press. They are golf and tennis. Phi Delta Theta is running in second place; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, third; and the Independents are in last position.

An extensive intra-mural sports program was carried out this year, and great competition between the groups on the campus was evidenced. Much interest has been shown in intra-mural athletics this year, not only by the men of the college, but by the women as well.

Indoor baseball was the first sport to be played off, and although it is a sport of only three year's standing in the program, a great deal of interest was shown. Two rounds of games were played in which many close contests ensued with Sigma Alpha Epsilon getting first; Kappa Delta Rho, second; Phi Delta Theta, third; and Independents, fourth.

The next sport up was horseshoe, another minor sport which has recently been added to the program. Due to some bad weather the playing was prolonged, but two rounds were eventually played. Kappa Delta Rho won first again; Phi Delta Theta, second; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, third; and Independents, last.

Intra-Mural Sports

Volleyball, basketball, and swimming followed in the order named. Both volleyball and basketball required two rounds of play. Volleyball and swimming are included in the list of minor sports and count only five points toward the intra-mural trophy. Basketball was the first major sport to be played, the winner of this event receiving ten points toward the trophy. In volleyball and in swimming the winning order was the same; Kappa Delta Rho, first; Phi Delta Theta, second; Independents, third; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won last place in both sports. The winners in basketball were Kappa Delta Rho, first; Phi Delta Theta, second; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, third; and Independents, last.

Baseball and track are the spring sports which so far have been played off. In baseball one round was played, but a peculiar situation arose when Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Delta Rho, and Independents all tied for first place while Sigma Alpha Epsilon would receive second, as yet the winners of baseball have not been announced. The track meet was held on Wednesday, May 17, with a large crowd of spectators witnessing the affair. Sigma Alpha Epsilon carried off the meet and four of five records were established. Kappa Delta Rho's thinlins captured second with Phi Delta Theta winning a close third and the Independents taking last place.

The outcome of tennis and golf is uncertain, but the winner of the big trophy hinges on these last two events. Kappa Delta Rho holds a rather safe lead and are likely winners of the much coveted cup.

Women's Athletic Association

"W. A. A. has indeed had a very successful year and has increased its membership and influence considerably since last fall," said Mrs. Evelyn Larkin Bridges, sponsor of the organization, as she spoke to the entire group at the final initiation dinner of the year at Ye Wayside Inn, in May. There has been much more interest shown in W. A. A., and more activity during 1932-33, than has been manifest for sometime past.

W. A. A. sponsors all athletic events for women held in this campus. A novelty was introduced during the past year in the girl's basketball tournament, played by sorority teams. Delta Zeta girls won the championship title by defeating the Zeta Tau Alpha team. Dorothy Gillaspay had entire charge of the plans for this tournament.

In order to introduce the organization to freshmen women, a "gingham hop" was held in the gymnasium last fall. A short play was presented and the girls danced during the remainder of the evening.

Practice is held in all sports for six weeks periods, then a varsity team is selected by Mrs. Bridges, assisted by the head of the respective sports.

Those in W. A. A. picture are:

First Row: Dorothy Gillaspay, Virginia Green, Hannah Hood, Dorothy Stroud, Virginia Schlosser, Elizabeth Oglesby, Mary Etta Furnish.

Second Row: Frances Beaman, Mildred Means, Dorothy Dekle, Mary Lagle, Betty Frisinger, Anne Winnes.

Fourth Row: Lucile Clark, Helen Winton, Kathryn Doub, Bernice McKinney, Beulah Eldridge.

For membership it is necessary to earn one hundred points by participating in some major sport. At the end of the year a numeral is awarded to those who have earned one hundred points; a letter to those having eight hundred points; and a jacket to anyone acquiring sixteen hundred points. This year two girls, Dorothy Stroud and Dorothy Gillaspay, were given letters. Only one jacket was awarded, this being given to Helen Winton, the first junior ever to receive one.

Officers during the year were: Edna Shadday, president; Mary Etta Furnish, vice-president; Helen Winton, secretary; and Dorothy Gillaspay, treasurer. Since Edna Shadday did not return to school the second semester, Mary Etta Furnish served as president during this time.

Heads of sports: fall archery, Mary Ritz; hockey, Virginia Schlosser; volley ball, Dorothy Stroud; basketball, Dorothy Gillaspay; baseball, Virginia Green; hiking, Dorothy Dekle; swimming, Kathryn Doub; tennis, Anne Winnes; spring archery, Elizabeth Frisinger.

Those initiated in May, whose pictures do not appear above are: Marian Shake, Florence Grimes, Marie Grimes, Traber Guthrie, Caroline Castor, Katherine Lee, Mary Frances Setser, Daisy McCullough, Bernice McKinney, Gladys Lloyd, Lucille, Clarke, Joyce Vinson, Gladys Wolfen, Mildred Wertz, Sara Brisco, Hilda Cunningham, Margaret Jean Cummings.

Inter-Fraternity Council

Under the leadership of Carl Shaw, president, the Franklin Inter-fraternity Council has spent a very successful year. It is the purpose of this group to sponsor and promote intermural athletics, to settle any problems confronting the various groups on the campus, to aid the good feeling existing between the various fraternities, and to decide on the eligibility of candidates for initiation from the campus fraternities.

The Council is composed of a representative group of nine men, three from every fraternity. The president is an ex-officio member and this office rotates among the three groups who are members.

Perhaps the most outstanding piece of work done by this group during the past year was their revision of the rushing plan used for Franklin high school seniors. A limit has been set on the number of rush parties which any one group may have, and no entertaining of high school students may be done except at specifically designated hours during a weekend.

Working in cooperation with Coach R. E. Tillolson, student managers for all the intramural sports have been appointed. Next year one man will be selected from this group to head all intramural athletics and it is thought that this sort of plan will be very satisfactory.

The annual State Inter-fraternity Council Convention was held this year on the Butler University campus in Indianapolis. Franklin was represented by Cyrus Favor and Harold Nelson. At this meeting Raymond E. Blackwell was re-elected as state secretary for the organization.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Delta Theta was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, December 26, 1848. The founders intended that the fraternity should be extended to other institutions, and before the second anniversary it had been established at Indiana University. There are now 103 active chapters, and before the fall term started in 1932 there was a total membership of over 40,000.

A few prominent members of this fraternity are: J. C. McReynolds, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court; Will H. Hays, former Postmaster General; Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War; Grantland Rice, sports writer; Lou Gherig, baseball star, and many others.

Indiana Delta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta was founded at Franklin College in 1860. The charter members were D. D. Banta, T. F. Morgan, C. Byfield, W. D. Stott, and G. W. Grubb. There has been only two years since this time that the fraternity has not been active, and at that time the college was closed.

The chapter this year was fortunate in having four men receive their golden legion certificates at the annual Phi Delta Theta Alumni banquet, which was held at the Columbia Club on March 4, 1933. These four men, Grafton Johnson, R. T. Wilson, J. W. Fessler, and J. T. LaGrange, receive these golden certiicates after having been Phi Deits for fifty years.

There are seventeen active men with fourteen pledges in the chapter this year. The officers are: Andrew Offutt, president; Glen Kenny, reporter; Norman Lloyd, warden; Richard Moser, secretary; Herbert Volland, historian; Frank Cohn, chaplain; Edward Pease, alumni secretary; Herschel Wheeler, treasurer; Charles Deppe, chorister.

Several popular alumni from this chapter of Phi Delta Theta are Elmer Davis, popular writer for the Colliers and other magazines; Max Jones, head of personnel, Chase National Bank, New York; George Banta, publisher of "Banta's Greek Exchange;" and many others.

First Row: Glen Kenny, Andrew Offutt, Francis Kline, Burke Anderson, Patrick Cuddy.

Second Row: Herschel Wheeler, Wendell Rowe, Ralph Mosingo, Richard Moser, Herbert Volland, Charles Deppe.

Fifth Row: John Fix, John Clore, Wilbur Lloyd, John Sellers, Kenneth Boling, Philip Johnson.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama, March 9, 1856, by eight students. The fraternity was designed to be national in extent, and had seven chapters before the end of the year, 1857. There are now 108 active chapters with a total membership of 39,206.

There are now alumni associations in one hundred and five American cities, and in Paris, France. In Evanston, Illinois, there is a national memorial temple erected in memory of all members of the fraternity who lost their lives in any war since 1856. The fraternity magazine, "The Record," was first published in 1880. The colors of the fraternity are royal purple and old gold. The flower is the violet.

Among the prominent members are: James Bausch, winner of the 1932 Olympic Decathlon; Harry Hansen, critic and author; "Pat" Harrison, senator from Louisiana; Merle Thorpe, editor "The Nation's Business;" Wilbur Daniel Steele, author; Key Pittman, senator from Nevada; William Faulkner, author; and James H. Rand, Jr., head of the Remington-Rand Company.

Indiana Alpha of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was fortunate in having a full chapter house this year, in spite of widespread financial conditions which resulted in a drastic curtailment of activities and a corresponding reduction in costs to members. Twenty-three active men and ten pledges comprise the roll of the chapter.

Nationally prominent men from this chapter include; Dr. A. R. Hatton, head of the department of political science at Northwestern University; William G. Everson, retired major-general of the U. S. Militia and clergyman; Dr. Harry E. Mock, surgeon; and Alvin Fay Harlow, author.

The officers this year are: Eminent Archon, Bartlett Atwood; Eminent Deputy Archon, George Lewis; Eminent Recorder, Lawrence Fulmer; Eminent Correspondent, Robert Lockman; Eminent Treasurer, Robert Deupree; Eminent Chronicler, Hugh Purkhiser; Eminent Warden, Raymond Stump; Eminent Herald, Robert Bryant; Eminent Chaplain, Max Martin; House Manager, Elmer Terrell; Rushing Captain, Harold Nelson; Alumni Secretary, George Lewis.

Kappa Delta Rho

Kappa Delta Rho was founded in the spring of 1905, at Middlebury College Middlebury, Vermont, as a local fraternity. In 1913, Harold A. Severy, one of its members, who was taking graduate work at Cornell, interested a local group on that campus having the same aims and ideals, in becoming Beta Chapter of the fraternity.

There are now nineteen active chapters, with a total membership of 2,670. Government is vested in the hands of the grand officers. Each chapter is known as a local chapter and sends two voting delegates to the national convention biennially.

Some of the distinguished members are: J. S. Fisher, former governor of Pennsylvania; John Kochich, All-American candidate from Indiana University in football as chosen by Grantland Rice; Theron R. Stinchfield, U. S. Olympic Track Team from the University of California in 1932; Leo T. Wolford, prominent Louisville, Kentucky criminal lawyer; Donald B. Prentice, president of Rose Poly Institute; Bleeker Marquette, Executive Secretary of the Public Health Federation of America.

Kappa Delta Rho was organized as a local fraternity under the name of Pi Alpha Phi. In 1919 it became the Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Rho. The Franklin chapter is Indiana's Alpha chapter. The fraternity has experienced a rapid growth in the past ten years, and this year they reached the largest enrollment of the fraternities on the campus with thirty-five men in the organization. Kappa Delta Rho has endeavored to protect the highest scholastic record on the campus attained last year, and have lead the procession in intramural athletics this year.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Pan-Hellenic Association has done many things to aid social affairs on the campus during the past year, the three most important things being the revision of rush rules, the Pan-Hellenic dinner, and the coed dance. At the dinner the scholarship cup was awarded to the sorority girl making the highest grades. Wynema Howard, of Zeta Tau Alpha, received the cup for the past year.

The organization is affiliated with National and State Pan-Hellenic Councils. The Council is composed of eight members, a junior and a senior elected from each sorority on the campus. The purpose of the organization is that it should be the governing body of all inter-sorority activities, promote cooperation between the sororities and loyalty to the College, as well as make local rulings concerning the initiation of women into the sororities on the campus.

Officers for the past year were: Beulah Eldridge, president and Elizabeth Myers, secretary-treasurer.

First Row: Beulah Eldridge, Elizabeth Myers, Blanche Sizelove, Anne Winnes.

Second Row: Kathryn Mossop, Dorothy Stroud, Mary Etta Furnish, Kathryn Suckow.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, on April 28, 1867, and was the first organization of college women established as a national college fraternity. In the sixty-six years of its existence, the sorority has founded and maintained seventy-eight chapters and eight inactive chapters in the United States and Canada with an approximate membership of 22,000.

The Pi Beta Phi badge of recognition is a tiny gold arrow bearing the Greek letters Pi Beta Phi transversely on the feather with a loop chain pendant from the shaft. The sorority colors are wine-red and silver-blue, and the flower is the wine carnation. Pi Beta Phi pledges are honored with a golden arrow head of burnished gold with the Greek letter B in polished gold.

At Franklin College, the Indiana Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi was instituted in January 1888, as the first permanent national sorority and second national Greek letter organization on the campus. Emma Harper Turner one of the fourteen local founders, served for several years as national Grand President, organized the National Alumnae Association, and proposed the creation of the Phi Beta Phi Settlement School in Gatlinburg, Tennessee, a pioneer philanthropic project among college fraternity women.

Since the time of its establishment, the local chapter has readily tripled its membership and has significantly contributed to all phases of campus enterprises. Its members have consistently taken a prominent part in every social, scholastic, athletic and miscellaneous student organization.

The officers who served during the past year include: Mary Ritz, president; Marian Mullendore, vice-president; Elizabeth Oglesby, recording-secretary; Louise Crouch, corresponding-secretary; Kathryn Mossop, treasurer; and Frances Warren, Mary Lagle, censors.

Delta Delta Delta

Delta Delta Delta was founded in Boston on Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, by four students in Boston University. Since that time eighty-four chapters of Delta Delta Delta have been founded on the campuses of colleges and universities of the United States.

Delta Delta Delta is active in philanthropic work. The most important philanthropic project is the scholarship fund for outstanding seniors.

The Trident, a quarterly journal, is one of the oldest Greek letter publications. This magazine is outstanding as a sorority journal. The Triton and The Trireme are private publications. A songbook, pledge manual, directory and history complete the list of publications.

The official badges are: for the first degree a silver trident; for the second degree, three jeweled stars within a crescent of gold of three hundred degrees, bearing three Greek Delta's; for the third degree, a Greek Delta in white enamel, supported by three Greek Delta's of gold, and inscribed in a golden circle, surrounded by six spherical triangles in blue enamel. The pledges wear an inverted Delta surrounded by three Greek Delta's all in green enamel.

The colors of Delta Delta Delta are silver, gold and blue; the flower is the pansy; the tree, the pine; and the jewel, the pearl.

Delta Delta Delta has grown to be one of the most influential sororities. It was one of the first to be taken in the National Pan-Hellenic Congress.

Delta Zeta chapter of Delta Delta Delta originated in 1896 as an exceptionally strong local chapter, Alpha Gamma Alpha. Because of its leadership on the campus, the chapter was deemed worthy of initiation into Delta Delta Delta in 1912. The new chapter grew rapidly. It has continued to grow until Delta Zeta's twenty-eight members have become important in student life. Its members are active in athletic, scholastic, and social activities of the campus.

The present sorority officers are: Dorothy Bahr, president; Alice McCullough, vice-president; Alice Mock, corresponding secretary; Laura Bernice Webb, recording secretary; Margaret Andres, treasurer; Ruby Disque, marshal; Kathryn Suckow, chaplain; Pauline Loesch, librarian; Lucile Crawford, historian.

Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta founded October 23, 1902, at Miami University, now includes fifty-four chapters in the United States and Canada with a total membership of approximately 8,000.

The Delta Zeta badge is a Roman lamp resting on an Ionic column. In the flame is a diamond. At the base of the lamp are four pearls, while the lamp bears the Greek letters of Delta Zeta. The sorority colors are old rose and Nile green, and the flower is the Killarney rose. The jewel is the diamond. Delta Zeta pledges wear a diamond of black enamel bearing the Roman lamp of gold as their badge of recognition.

Philanthropic work entered into by this sorority consists of a school for non-privileged children, located at Vest, Kentucky. This school was organized and supported entirely by Delta Zeta.

Psi chapter of Delta Zeta formed from the local chapter of Iota Psi Nu, was instituted in October 1920, at Franklin College.

Since that time Psi has increased in strength and status until the results of its efforts are seen by its representation and leadership in the outstanding social, scholastic, and athletic organizations on the campus.

During the past year the sorority officers have been: Kathryn Doub, president; Frances Beaman, vice-president; Gwendolyn Horton, secretary; Myrl Guthrie, treasurer; and Dorothy Stroud, assistant treasurer.

First Row: Jeannette Caudle, Kathryn Doub, Blanche Sizelove, Gwendolyn Horton, Dorothy Stroud.

Third Row: Evelyn Montgomery, Maxine McPeck, Gladys Lloyd, Elizabeth Dewar, Hanna Hood.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded October 25, 1898, at the Virginia State Normal School, Farmville, Virginia. The group organized on this campus influenced other local groups in various institutions, and now the sorority includes seventy-two chapters, with a total membership of approximately 9,000. It was a pioneer fraternity for women in its own and original field—the South. Zeta Tau Alpha is now an international organization, and is the sixth largest of the twenty-one National Pan-Hellenic Congress fraternities for women.

Zeta Tau Alpha's philanthropic program includes maintenance of a settlement school, which is one of the most commented upon and widely approved pieces of philanthropic work in the Greek letter world.

The sorority journal, Themis, a quarterly, was first issued in 1913. The Chain is a daily, issued during convention. A songbook, which was the first original one of its kind to be published by a Greek letter organization. Etiquette Book, and the Link, a secret publication, complete the sorority publications.

The Zeta Tau Alpha pin is a shield of black enamel superimposed upon a shield of gold. The black shield bears in the center a five pointed crown, around which are arranged the letters "ZTA." Below the crown, in Greek, is the word, Themis. Around the black enamel shield are arranged twenty-four pearls. The pledges are honored with a carpenter's square in silver and turquoise enamel. The recognition pin is a small five-pointed crown. The colors of the sorority are turquoise and steel gray. The flower is the white violet. The patron goddess is Themis.

Beta Theta chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha was founded on Franklin College campus on April 11, 1927. It was formed from the local fraternity, Phi Beta Gamma, which had been on the campus for a number of years previous to this time.

Since the time of the founding of the local chapter, the members have been quite active in social, athletic, scholastic, and miscellaneous organizations. The chapter can boast of several outstanding alumnae and members of the local chapter. It has continually striven to hold high the ideals of Franklin College and to cooperate with other campus organizations.

Sorority officers during the past year were: Anne Winnes, president; Dorothy Barth, vice-president; Ruth DeBard, secretary; Helen Winton, treasurer; Florence Grimes, historian; and Dorothy Gillaspay, guard.

First Row: Beulah Eldridge, Ruth DeBard, Dorothy Barth.

Third Row: Florence Grimes, Traber Guthrie, Marian Shake, Marie Grimes.

Fourth Row: Elizabeth Frisinger, Katherine Lee, Caroline Castor, Mary Jane Schroeder.
